Ovid Universal Search Lets You Conduct ALL of Your Searching Within OvidSP—No Matter Where the Content Resides

With Ovid Universal Search, our first-to-market cross-platform solution, you can stay within OvidSP to conduct ALL of your searching and results management – no matter where the content resides.

Ovid Universal Search, available as a unique add-on to OvidSP, saves researchers valuable time searching—with just one query, retrieve results from all subscribed resources wherever they reside—so they can spend more time analyzing results to make more effective decisions on important work.

Features of our seamless, cross-platform search and discovery tool include:

- De-duplicate your non-Ovid Universal Search results
- Link seamlessly to full-text resources from Universal Search results (when available)
- Customize the display of Universal Search results—view all results in one set or multiple sets
- View similar displays of OvidSP and non-Ovid uniform records; both sets include key data such as title, author, publication, and more
- Use trusted OvidSP search and workflow tools for non-Ovid search results
- Optimize searching non-Ovid platforms with Basic Search, which employs unique term expansion capabilities to give you a broad-based search
- Save citations, full text, and images you retrieve from non-Ovid sources to a project or folder into the My Projects area of OvidSP using the Ovid Toolbar
